

THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

The Interstate Commerce Commission is preparing for an extensive tour in the West to hear cases which have arisen for adjudication. The rates from Colorado to California are to be inquired into. The Colorado people claim that while they can manufacture rails and machinery successfully they cannot compete in California with Eastern manufacturers, who can ship such articles at lower rates, though the distance is much greater.

The visit of the Commission to this Coast will give the Nevada shippers opportunity to present their grievances. Nevada people claim that they have to pay approximately two and a half times as much from points east of the Missouri river as Sacramento and San Francisco shippers have to pay for the same class of freights. For instance, a car-load of wire, weighing about 24,000 pounds, is taken from Illinois to Sacramento for $38, while $201 is charged for the same freight to Reno. Two merchants, one doing business in Nevada and the other in Sacramento, order a car load of barbed wire each from the factory in Illinois. Both cars are shipped at the same time and are brought over the Union Pacific and Central Pacific. When the train arrives at Reno one of the cars is derailed and the shipper has to pay $291 freight on the same. The other car is taken west over the great Sierra Nevada, 150 miles, to Sacramento, and upon its arrival there the consignee pays $93 for the same quantity and character of freight that the Nevada had to pay $291 for east of the Sierra Nevada.

Why should not the attention of the Interstate Commerce Commission be called to this discrimination? Is it possible to conceive anything more unjust in the line of transportation charges? Why then not have the Interstate Commerce Commission investigate it and either prevent its continuance or stand convicted before the country of being a party to the outrage?

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IN UTAH.

A convention is now engaged in framing a Constitution for the new State of Utah, which is to be admitted as soon as the Constitution is adopted. In the new Constitution women are to be placed on the same footing as men, the word "male" being left out of all clauses relating to the suffrage.

Under Mormon rule the women of Utah were permitted to vote. The Tribune, the leading Gentile paper at that time, denounced woman suffrage as an outrage. Whether it has since experienced a change of heart on the question the Journal cannot state authoritatively. However that may be, both the Democrats and Republicans of Utah declare in favor of equal suffrage and the Salt Lake Herald, the leading Democratic paper of the Territory, advocates it and says the delegates to the Constitutional Convention have been elected on platforms which favored equal suffrage, the least the delegates who are opposed to it can do is to hold their peace concerning it.

The Woman Suffragist Association of Salt Lake presented a memorial to the Constitutional Convention. They declared that the women of Utah are denied the privileges of American citizenship and the right of suffrage notwithstanding the majority of them are native born citizens. They further represented that though amenable to the laws and pay taxes for the support of the Government, exactly the same as male citizens, they are not permitted a voice or vote in the levying or expenditure of such taxes.

The Convention, composed of delegates who were pledged to favor woman suffrage in their respective platforms, could not well stultify themselves, though several of them were personally opposed to it, and the word "male" was left out of all clauses relating to the suffrage, and leaves it to the Legislature to determine who may vote.

SENATOR MORGAN of Alabama, Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, is in favor of purchasing Cuba. He says he has always been a Cuban annexationist. He thinks it only a question of time when Cuba will throw off the Spanish yoke. If the revolutionists are able to hold out a year they will get material aid from this country not only in money, but in men, as there are many who are ready to go into a war with Cuba if the revolutionists show that they command any strength at home.

The Consuls of Monterey went to Austin and arrested William Taylor on a warrant issued by the Justice of the Peace at Kennelby on complaint of a man named King. Taylor was taken to Kennedy, but no one appeared against him and he was discharged. Taylor is a poor man and the Reville says those who procured his arrest ought to be sent to State Prison.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has issued a statement which shows that the receipts for the first eight months of the present fiscal year to have been $100,892,466, an increase of $5,180,622 as compared with the same months of last year. In February 1895 there was a decrease of $1,701,445 as compared with February 1894.

All rumors about the Carson mint are idle. Mr. Harris says strict orders have been issued and no one connected with the mint will speak until the Inspector has finished his investigation.

THE SAILORS' STRIKE.

A Small Riot in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—The first breach of the peace to result from the sailors' strike for higher wages occurred here this morning when a crowd of Union seamen attacked the boarding master, Johnnie Cain, and ten negroes whom Cain was trying to put aboard the bark Wilna. The negroes were hired after Cain's failure to secure white men at $25. Clubs were banged right and left until the police finally charged the rioters, who were on Mission wharf, and when peace was finally secured it was found that only five of the ten negroes remained. The Wilna put to sea with these five, who were not seamen. No arrests.

The schooner Ivy and La Gironde also put to sea this morning with short crews, the Captains refusing to pay Union wages. La Gironde took on three green farmers from Sonoma. She needed five seamen. The Ivy's Captain went out with one negro and a cook.

A BURGLAR SHOT.

A Night Watchman Fata a Bullet in Him.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., March 21.—A burglar was shot and probably fatally wounded here at 5 o'clock this morning by Nightwatchman W. R. Dickinson. The night watchman discovered that someone was ransacking Lew Williams cigar store. After calling two men to his assistance and posting them to guard the front door, Dickinson went in the back way and grappled with the burglar. In the scuffle which ensued the burglar reached for a hatchet and Dickinson pulled a gun and shot him. The wounded burglar is a young man, says his name is Charles Santa and that his parents reside in West Berkeley. There is little chance of his recovery.

FACTS ABOUT WALL STREET.

The European Bondholders Control Wall Street and Use it as a Medium to Control Uncle Sam.

The sixty-five banks of New York City, which are members of the New York clearance house, are also known as the associated banks. They are in close communion with the clearing houses of Boston and Philadelphia, and dictate the policy of the U. S. Treasury department. During the panic of 1893 there were sixty-four banks failures in the United States. Of this number only fifty-one were credited to the New England and Middle States. The law regarding reserves was promptly enforced against the western and southern banks, which accounts for their numerous failures, but with Wall Street the case was very different. Cleveland and the U. S. Treasury officials allowed the New York banks to keep open house for several months in direct violation of the law. It was advertised to the whole world for several months that the New York banks were notoriously short in their reserves, but owing to the great hypnotic influence which Wall Street exerts over Cleveland and the Treasury officials, the associated banks were allowed to violate the law with impunity.

Wall Street seems to have full control of the Treasury department. But after all, Wall Street is simply the agent of the British bondholders who are using it as a medium to force the Government to issue more bonds. They declare that if Cleveland refuses to borrow, that they will withdraw our gold from circulation and precipitate a panic in Wall Street. This threat, it is supposed, will have the desired effect, and Cleveland will probably put another mortgage on the country within six months.

Saved Her Life.

Mrs. C. J. Woodbridge, of Wortham, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of my children had Croup. The child was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's harsh, rattling, and on going to it found it struggling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicines given, I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and, in a short time, she was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well today. I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life.

EUREKA, March 17, 1895.

EDITOR JOURNAL: The Legislature has adjourned and a general sense of relief is felt. No Legislature has ever met in the State with better opportunity for making a good record than the late but not lamented one. The platforms of all three of the political parties in the State were practically the same upon the burning questions of the day—the remonetization of silver and the extension of the time and change of terms of payment of the debts of the Union Pacific and Central Pacific railroads.

It would be a useless waste of ink to point out all of the "sins of omission and commission" of the Legislature, especially of a majority of the Assembly. The most flagrant have already been denounced by the press of this State.

Is either of the political parties responsible for the misdeeds of the Legislature? Certainly not. Taking the Assembly as an example, and we find that at least eight out of the ten or twelve Republicans in that body and about an equal number of Silver members apparently voted as the lobby directed all through the session. It would, therefore, be manifestly unjust to hold either the Republican or Silver party responsible. Who, then, is responsible? Unquestionably the lobby and the members who permitted the lobby to influence them. I was at Carson during the first three weeks of the session, and during that time the scenes around the Senate and Assembly chambers were simply scandalous. It was a common occurrence to see members called out into the hallway at the beck of a railroad lobbyist, it is not unfair to assume to receive directions in regard to matters pending or to come up in the Legislature affecting railroad interests. The member dependent upon some lobbyist or friend of a lobbyist was intimidated. Bribe and bribery were used with the corrupt and weak, and inexperienced were wheedled and deceived by the lobby, and by such means a majority in one or both houses was secured to defeat needed legislation affecting railroad and other interests, and frequently to secure vicious legislation. The work of the lobbyist, especially the railroad lobbyist, is not confined to the Legislature, however. The railroad company is interested in the election of men who wear its collar as assessors, county commissioners and members of the Legislature. Usually a few months before a general election the railroad lobbyist snoopers around through the State selecting candidates for those and even higher offices who will be acceptable to the railroad. When the candidates have been selected the railroad company gives them substantial support and, if elected, they can generally be relied upon to protect railroad interests.

The people, a vast majority of whom are deeply interested in and in favor of honest legislation and a just administration of the laws, should apply a caustic remedy for the present existing abuses. Permit me to suggest the remedy. A new party division must be made. The honest, intelligent, independent voters must be arrayed against the knaves, political time servers and fools without regard to party affiliation. These are honest, intelligent, independent Republicans, Silver men and Populists. There are political knaves, time servers and fools who are Republicans, Silver men and Populists. The latter almost invariably act together. Reform seems hopeless unless the former also act together. Whenever a knave, a time server or a fool is a candidate for office the honest, intelligent and independent voter should vote and work against him, no matter what party he belongs to. Whenever a honest, intelligent and independent man is a candidate for office and you find the lobby influence working against him, vote for him independent of party. Whenever you find a railroad lobbyist snoopers around the country advocating the election of this, that or the other candidate it is safe to assume in a vast majority of instances that he wears the railroad collar and should be defeated.

To sum it all up in a few words what is most needed to break up the worst features of lobby influence is less partisanship and more honest, intelligent and independent voting amongst our best class of citizens. THOS. WREN.

The Ross House.

The Spring fever of cleaning seems to have struck James Sullivan, the genial proprietor of the Ross House. He is having it thoroughly overhauled and under the supervision of Messrs. Easton and Fanning proposes to make it one of the coziest resorts in Reno. It is a popular place for cattle and sheep men to congregate, and Mr. Sullivan invites the traveling public and his old friends to call and they will immediately be convinced that the Ross House is a popular resort.

THE MINT SHORTAGE.

The Cause a Plain Case of Stealing.

The shortage of over $84,000 in the Carson Mint is a subject of general comment. There are many theories regarding it, but the opinion among those who are at all familiar with the manner in which the minting and refining is done are satisfied that the shortage was caused by the gold having been stolen while in the granulated stage in the process of refining. Important clues have been found which may lead to results. That the guilty parties will be traced and detected there is not much doubt. The Carson Appeal, in commenting upon the steal, says:

"The shortage in the Carson Mint amounts to a plain theft. It is too early at present to fix the responsibility, but when it is fixed someone will be wearing stripes in the penitentiary for a term of years."

"It is folly to talk of errors in assaying, imperfect book-keeping, etc., etc. The matter is a plain, ordinary piece of stealing, and the amount of such dimensions that it is quite clear that probably more than one or two persons were engaged in the conspiracy."

"At different times during the last few years there has been unpleasant rumors concerning the mint, and the Appeal knows of one case where a workman was discovered with a small amount of bullion in his dinner bucket. The man was merely discharged and he turned over the bullion, but he was not prosecuted because he had a family. The principle involved in such a proposition is bad and had the discovery of his theft been followed promptly by prosecution and imprisonment, it is more than likely that the men engaged in the present robbery would have been less likely to run the risk of the penitentiary."

FATAL ACCIDENT.

E. W. Jameson Sustains Injuries Which Resulted in Death.

E. W. Jameson was run over by his wood wagon and sustained injuries from which he died yesterday morning. While hauling wood the team started and he attempted to get hold of the lines, but in so doing was run over by the loaded wagon. A wheel passed over one of his legs and diagonally across his body to the shoulder. The accident occurred near the N-C-O wood yard and Mr. Jameson was taken to his home at Whitaker Hall, where Dr. Hogue was called to attend him. The doctor pronounced his injuries very serious and his daughter, Miss Jennie Jameson, who is teaching school at Verdi, was telegraphed for and came down on the east-bound train. Mr. Jameson died yesterday morning from the effects of his injuries. He leaves a widow and five children, the youngest about twelve years of age, to mourn the death of an affectionate husband and father. He was a native of Maine and 57 years of age. He came to Verdi in this county, from Plumas county, California, five or six years ago and was principally engaged in teaming. When the school at Whitaker Hall closed he took charge of the place and resided there with his family. Two of his children, a son and a daughter, are students at the State University. The family have the sympathy of the community in this, their hour of affliction.

NEVADA SOUTHERN RAILROAD.

Twenty-Four Liens Filled Against It.

Twenty-four liens, aggregating over $60,000, were filed at San Bernardino, Cal., yesterday against the Nevada Southern Railroad. These are to be followed by liens amounting to $40,000 more, or a total of over $100,000. The liens are filed by mechanics and men, including one claim by the original contractor on the construction of the road. From the character of these claims they will take precedence of other indebtedness against the road and will be foreclosed at once and the road sold.

The Nevada Southern Railroad is already in the hands of a receiver, R. S. Selbert having been appointed in December at the request of other creditors, prominent among whom is R. J. Woodbury, a Denver capitalist, while a share of the indebtedness is held in San Francisco.

The action on the part of the San Bernardino and Los Angeles creditors will complicate matters very much, but local attorneys say the liens of the mechanics and material men will supercede those claims which were filed at the time the receiver was appointed, and that they will immediately foreclose and sell the road.

As soon as he was made receiver Selbert went East for the purpose of interesting fresh capital in the road and extending it to the rich sections of Central Nevada, but the action taken yesterday will, for the present, block any step looking toward an extension.

Viavi Tablets.

Viavi is now being prepared in a special form for the stomach. We have realized for a long time that the membrane of the stomach, being similar to the membrane of other portions of the body, could, if this remedy were applied in a pre-digested form, be greatly strengthened. The preparation has the same action in the stomach as the natural juices, whose strength has decreased when stomach trouble exists. To prepare Viavi in this form has taken nearly two years of constant effort, and it is probably the only instance on record where a preparation has been made in a form already digested, requiring no action or effort on the part of the system to assimilate it.

The Tablets should be used whenever there is inflammation, congestion, or catarrh of the stomach and bowels. Indigestion, properly speaking, is a catarrhal condition of the stomach and bowels and prevents them from changing the foods into the proper substances for absorption.

All Sorts of Treatment Failed—Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured.

Long Beach, Cal.

Over all diseases caused by or arising from impure blood, Hood's Sarsaparilla seems to have almost magical control. Please read the following frank letter of Mr. Freeby, voluntarily endorsed by the Postmaster and Druggist of the town:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

My wife sprained her ankle ten years ago. It apparently got well, being a little larger than the other ankle. Three years ago last spring a sore broke out on her knee, then on her ankle, and a third one on her foot, which became and the doctor of this place could not do anything to benefit my wife's case. We moved to Los Angeles by the advice of the doctor and had other physicians. I then took my wife to the hospital, and the surgeons said all the best around the sores. They almost healed up, but soon after, two little sores came, one on each side of the first sore. The doctors said they would not amount to anything, but in a few days they turned out to be more ulcers, and in a short time they had eaten into the original sore and made a big wound. The surgeon decided an Operation Must Be Performed.

My wife would not consent to this so we rested matters for a few days. Happening to meet another physician who said he could cure her limb in four weeks we consented to have him treat the case. After he had doctored five months there were seven ulcers in place of one when he commenced. He finally said my wife would never get well. I was about discouraged, and I went home and threw away all the salves and medicines and decided to have her try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Besides giving her this medicine we ban-aged her foot in steeped leaves and roots and continued this treatment for five months. At the end of that time she had taken eleven bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, the sores were all healed and

She is Perfectly Well.

I tell everyone what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for my wife and advise all afflicted to try it. My wife is 52 years old and is in the best of health." JOSEPH C. FREEBY, Long Beach, California.

Don't be Fooled by the "Octopus."

Bender and Fish, the Insurance Agents, claim to be the "Opposition" in the fight with the "Octopus" Board Combine.

They say to those insured and those wanting insurance—don't be fooled by the sensational Dodgers circulated by the "Octopus" but call on them and receive the benefit of the lowest cut rates that may be offered, and for which they alone are entitled to credit.

Bender and Fish are the real friends of the insured for they are standing by them and they have no fear but that the people of Reno will stand by them in return. This is proven to their entire satisfaction by the results of the contest with the "Octopus" since the war started.

SNOW IN SAVANNAH.
A Novelty Which Almost Made the People Wild One Day Last Month.
When the mantle of snow was spread over the city that Friday morning in February, the people did not know just how to take it at first. Then they turned in to have fun. All day the city was practically in the hands of merry-makers. The people went wild over the snow. It was worse than three years ago. Then, on the occasion of a very slight fall of snow, some merchants got outside their stores and began snow-balling each other, and a policeman interfering with the sport. They turned on him and made it so hot for him that he was glad to retreat, at first slowly, but afterward into a run and was chased to the barracks, a distance of about 1 1/2 miles, by a howling mob of a thousand men, women and children.
The school children were dismissed for the day after roll call in the morning, so they joined the throng on the streets. Strid and sober business men, bankers, lawyers and clergymen went along the streets with tightly packed balls of snow in their hands ready to pelt acquaintances, or, in fact, anybody that made a good target. Bang! and the silk hat worn by a banker or lawyer would leave the head of wearer and land far out in the street. As the owner attempted to capture it a volley of snow-balls would come from another direction. The electric cars were a mark for a large portion of the merry-makers, and conductors and motormen were treated as targets put up expressly for the snowball sharpshooters. The conductors hid themselves inside the cars most of the time. Along in the afternoon, when the fun had become more furious and the snow was so soft that snowballs could be packed like solid ice, the motormen, after leaving one street crossing, would go inside the car and stay there until the next crossing was reached, thus escaping the bombardment directed at the cars.
The women, both young and old, were not far behind the men in the sport. The height of the excitement was reached late in the afternoon, when an improvised sleigh turned from one of the side streets into Bull Street. It was followed by about 50 men and boys, but once on this principal thoroughfare the crowd increased tenfold and the noise correspondingly. The sleigh went up the street and down again. Every man, woman and child wanted a sleigh ride. The frail conveyance was swarmed with passengers all the time, and the horse was well nigh exhausted by drawing the load and being pummeled with snowballs. The breaking of windows became a favorite pastime. On many street cars not a whole pane of glass would be found when they returned to the car-house, so the order was given to hand off the closed cars, and after that only open cars were run, and the conductors and motormen alone were left as targets. No passengers ventured to ride in the open cars. At the Scoville House several large plate glass windows were broken, and in other parts of the city damage of a similar nature was reported. Requests were sent to police headquarters that the snowballing be stopped, but no attention was paid to them, the police remembering the experience of three years ago.
There were a few serious accidents. One man was struck in the eye with a snowball in which was a small stone. The eyeball was injured, and loss of sight of one eye may follow.—Savannah Letter.

REDUCED NOBILITY.
The Count Plunged, Lost, Was Ruined, and His Daughter Became a Thief.
The case of a ruined noble family was made public last week, says a Paris correspondent. Count Strozzi hazarded the whole of his fortune in big land building speculations in Rome a few years ago and for two or three short weeks was seemingly an assured winner of millions. But a crash came while his operations were still open, and he went under, with scores of families as noble as ancient and as reckless.
The count's young daughter was engaged to be married at the time, but her lover proved as fickle as fortune, and the ruined family retired to Bologna. The young countess, in order to support her parents, took a place as chambermaid and recently, under stress of poverty, stole some of her mistress' jewelry, and being tried and convicted was sentenced to only 19 days' imprisonment, the judge admitting as extenuating circumstances the sad change in her family's fortune. The publicity thus given to the case may possibly prove the salvation of the family. The young countess is now 28 years of age.

Proposed Legislation For Sleeping Cars.
In New York, for example, a uniform rate of 80 cents for a berth, without regard to distance, is called for; in Pennsylvania the rate demanded is $1 for the first 100 miles and 50 cents for each additional 100 miles. The legislators of Illinois want a rate of $1 for 24 hours or less; the Hoosiers are near to passing a bill fixing a rate of 75 cents for the first 100 miles and 50 cents for each additional 100 miles; in Kansas the purpose is to fix sleeping car rates at nothing higher than $1.50 per night and as low as 25 cents per day. A bill is almost certain to pass in Arkansas limiting the rate to half a cent a mile, and the legislators of Texas are minded to fix the rate at $1 a night, etc.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Life's Lottery.
A remarkable instance of the queer things turned out by life's wheel of fortune came to public notice yesterday at Bismarck. A clerk in the United States land office at the North Dakota capital threw up his job to start a restaurant and blind pig, and ex-Governor Shortbridge was appointed to the clerkship, a position which pays $1,000 per annum.—St. Paul Globe.

A Father to His Son.
"My son," said a fond father, a man whose early and late education had been somewhat neglected, but whose great success qualified him to give advice, "take this for your motto in life, 'K. K.—Keep Cool.'"—New York Sun.
